Verona Room

This interactive workshop shows how Toastmasters builds real leadership skills for the workplace. Learn to translate club experience into promotion-ready language, increase visibility, and apply practical leadership behaviors that accelerate career growth without needing a leadership title.

Nicole Anderson is a longtime Toastmaster who has served as Area Director and in multiple club officer roles, including Club President and Vice President Education. She has supported conference planning and organized club contests, and is currently exploring the launch of a Toastmasters club in her workplace.
